*"I am the living bread
from heaven; whoever eats of this bread will live forever."*

In today's first reading Elijah, who is depressed and suicidal, feeds on the food of the angels and recovers. St. Paul reminds us to remove evil in our hearts and instead take on compassion and mercy. Anything that separate us from God saddens the Holy Spirit and we must avoid them. In the gospel, Jesus' listeners have a hard time taking in his "strange" teachings, but Christ insists that they should take Him seriously, for their own good.

"They shall all be taught by God." It looks like a great honor to be taught by God Himself, but when God does so, people tend to shy away in disbelief. This is what we find in the reactions of the people to Jesus' teachings.

Such reluctance to be taught by God is presumably because what God teaches is against our sinful inclinations and inconveniences us. But such reluctance is to our own peril and saddens the Holy Spirit whose passion is to help us understand Jesus' teachings. Let us pray that we may realize that what we need now is an openness to the Spirit so that he can drive home what God wants us to learn, to do and to be.

Brothers and sisters, the claims that Jesus makes about Himself leave us with a choice: to receive Him and be transformed, following Him as he leads us to the Father, or to remain as we are at this moment.

God bless us all.

2018 Catholic Schools Appeal Update

The 35th Annual Catholic Schools Appeal is off to a great start! The Appeal kicked off in area parishes during the first weekend in May and is still going strong, thanks to parishioner support. If you haven't yet had the opportunity to make a gift, there is still time. A second mailing will be sent out soon for your convenience. The proceeds from this appeal will be divided among the Springfield-area Parish elementary schools and Sacred Heart – Griffin. As of the end of June, 32 parish families from St. Joseph's gave a total of $2,856. Our parishes' total giving to the 2017 Appeal was $4,215, so we are getting close to meeting last year's giving!

Thank you for your prayers and financial support year after year that helps keep Catholic education as a viable option for our families no matter what their financial situation. Please continue your support, no gift is too small.

Good News Reflection

20th Sunday in Ordinary Time
 Aug. 19, 2018

Being consumed without being destroyed

In next Sunday's Gospel reading, we hear the Great Eucharistic Command. Jesus says: "Those who feed on me will have life because of me." What kind of life? What's the difference between having his life and the one you were born with?

Jesus gives us his body and blood in every Mass so that we can consume him in his entirety -- all of his humanity and all of his divinity. He wants us to be nourished abundantly by his love. He wants us to receive his strength when we endure trials, his healing when we suffer wounds, and most of all, his life, not just when we go to Heaven, but here and now on Earth.

Consuming Jesus should transform us into his likeness. If we truly believe that the Eucharist is the body and blood of Jesus our Savior, then why would we leave Mass unchanged?

By consciously participating in the Penance Rite at the beginning of Mass, actively listening to the readings of the Word of God, sincerely praying with the priest, and trusting in the power of God when we say, "Lord, I am not worthy ... but say the word and my soul shall be healed," and then consuming the Eucharist with humility and awe, we become one with his body and blood.

Now we, too, are his body and blood on earth, ready for others to consume us, or to put it more accurately, giving them the opportunity to be nourished by the True Presence of Jesus within us.

When we give love to others, they receive God's love. When they fail to return that love, we are being consumed! We are giving more than we're receiving. Similarly, when we give of our time and talents for the sake of God's kingdom without being paid or rewarded, we are being Eucharist. We are one in body and blood with Jesus.

Being consumed without being destroyed is possible only if we receive from Jesus what others fail to give to us. This is why the Eucharistic celebration of Mass is our true nourishment. It needs to be the source and the summit of our lives.

Questions for Personal Reflection:

How similar to Jesus are you? What in God's personality do you need to consume more of so that you can become more like him? Ask for it whenever you go to Mass!

Questions for Community Faith Sharing:

Share the story of a time when you gave more than you received. How was this Christ-like? Why does it mean you were Eucharist for others? How does receiving Jesus during Mass fill us up so that we can continue giving without being depleted?
