From the Administrator's Desk.....!

"The disciples however, did not understand these words and they were afraid to ask him what he meant."

The theme of violence and conflict permeates in our readings for this Sunday. The wicked cannot stand with the righteous and plot the latter's downfall. In our gospel today, Jesus prophesizes about his own suffering and death at the hands of the enemies. While in our second reading, James provides us an insight into all violence – it is the result of jealous cravings and disordered desires.

Competition, jealousy, and violence happen only when the other is seen as an entity separate and different from us. If one is able to see the underlying unity of reality and the deep connectedness we have with everyone and everything else, this drive to be first and beat the rest will subside.

Brothers and sisters, this kind of understanding will help us also deal with violence meted out to us with compassion and non-violence, as Jesus could. Today, Jesus calls us to be different from the world and learn to serve others. This is how we can be the greatest in His eyes. Let us pray for the reduction of violence and promote peace in the world starting in our own family.

God bless us all.

Good News Reflection

26th Sunday in Ordinary Time
 Sep. 30, 2018

Unexpected partners

Jesus says in next Sunday's Gospel reading that whoever is not against us is for us. The reality of this often takes us by surprise in unexpected partners.

On the one hand, it can seem like someone is against us when really they are not. For example, when someone speaks a truth that we don't want to hear, that person seems to be our enemy while in fact they are God's chosen prophet.

At other times, people side with us but only for their own agenda; they're not interested in assisting the purposes that God has for our lives.

And sometimes we encounter people who are doing the Lord's work but not in the way that we expect them to, and so we assume that they are not doing what God wants them to do. Have you ever asked someone to pray for a certain intention and he/she prayed the opposite of what you intended?

Years ago, when my husband's company was laying off most of its employees, I asked a friend to pray for him so that he could find a new job, but she prayed instead for the company so that he wouldn't have to leave it. My expectations were for him to find a healthier company in which to work. I didn't like her prayer, but in the end, I realized that she was the only friend who had prayed exactly what the Lord had wanted!

To figure out whether someone is truly against us or is, in fact, God's instrument for us, we have to separate ourselves from the heat and frustrations of the experience and sit quietly with Jesus. After we vent to him our fears and anger and then forgive those who seem to be against us, we will be open to hearing a more divine assessment of the situation.

Even when someone truly is acting against us, when we sit quietly in prayer, seeking a word of knowledge or wisdom from the Holy Spirit, we can discover that God is for us and that's what matters most. He gives us encouragement and strength to endure any troubles.

Questions for Personal Reflection:

Who is telling you something that you don't like hearing? Is it possible that the Lord is speaking through this person? Whom have you trusted that turned out to be a false friend or a bad influence which harmed your faith? Who has been an unexpected instrument of the Lord on your spiritual journey?

Questions for Community Faith Sharing:

When have you been startled to discover that someone who did not seem to be "of the Lord" was really doing the Lord's work? What did the Lord accomplish through this unexpected source? What did you learn from it?
